Well North is a partnership between Public Health England (PHE), The University of Manchester and Manchester Academic Heath Science Centre; Local authorities, NHS organisations, business (both big and small), community, voluntary, and enterprise organisations.

The well north principles are to:

- Address inequalities by improving the health of the poorest, fastest
- Increasing resilience at individual, household and community levels
- Reducing levels of worklessness.

Well Halton is one of ten regional 'pathfinder' sites across the North, we are adopting a 'place based' approach that builds upon the unique nature of our borough and capitalises on Halton's many assets.

Unique projects are being develop in various neighbourhoods, each being co-produced with the local community, VCSE providers, agencies and Private Sector partners.

PIDs were developed in June 2016, however funds were not released until April2017 due to legal issues at the Well North Hub level. Despite the delays in funding, significant progress has been made against the PIDS and an overarching Well Halton Plan has now been developed.
